You are free to skip and skim through the pages of this manual but if you're relatively new to Internet Marketing, I encourage you read chronologically. If you have a printer, I recommend you print this manual out for reading convenience – it's your crash course guide to marketing!

Unzipping Your Files

This should be the first thing you need to do. Open the ZIP file and extract everything out using your WinZip program. If you don't have it installed in your computer, you can download it here.

Extract them out and you should have all of the following folders in a nutshell:

/Covers	(directory)
/Sales Letter	(directory)
/Source Files (Do Not Upload)	(directory)

EDITING & BRANDING THE PRODUCT

Branding the E-Book

What You MUST Do

1. Open the source Word document found in the /Source Files (Do Not Upload) directory in Word program.
2. There are pink texts that read [Insert Your Name Here] in at least 2-3 places in the book. Replace these texts with your name, and color them black. You can choose another color or use your own signature image if you want to. (Tip: to quickly change all these tags to your name as the author, press CTRL-H in Word program, insert “[Insert Your Name Here]” in the “Find What” space, and then insert your name e.g. John Doe in the “Replace With” space, then press “Replace All”.)

That’s it! The necessary branding has been done! When you’re done, convert the Word document into PDF format using your PDF Converter program. If you don’t have one, I recommend OpenOffice.

Branding Tips

1. You can change the cover on the first page to another cover of your choice. You can re-title the cover in Adobe Photoshop and later use as your front cover in Word document.
2. You can brand every page with your website URL in the header or footer. To do this, go to View -> Header & Footer. Then, you can insert your name or website URL.
3. You can put in your links/affiliate links and recommend to your readers throughout the book. The last pages of the book (Recommended Resources) are ideal for you to put in related programs as good follow-ups for your customers, enabling back-end income stream for you.

Editing the Covers

The covers can be found in the /Covers directory. If you want to edit the covers i.e. change title, add in your name, etc. open the PSD files in Adobe Photoshop and save them as .JPEG or .GIF format. If you don't have Adobe Photoshop program installed in your computer, you can purchase the latest version of the professional paint program from <http://www.adobe.com/> or visit the nearest computer store.

If you merely want to change the color schemes, there are over 4 different color schemes to choose from i.e. Red, Green, Blue, and Professional.

Editing the Sales Letter

1. Open your HTML Editor or Notepad.
2. Open the index2.htm file found in your /Sales Letter folder.
3. There is a pink tag called [Insert Your Name Here]. There are at least 2-3 tags like this in the same file and this is where you replace the pink text with your name. Be sure to color the text black or any other colors you choose.
4. There are empty testimonial slots in the sales letter, written in pink text. You can replace them with testimonials you collect from your customers and reviewers. Alternatively, you can remove the testimonial slots.
5. There are at least 2-4 "<http://orderlink/>" tags throughout the sales letter. Replace this tag with your order link so you can start accepting payments online from customers who want to purchase the product from you. (See also 3.3 Setting Up Your Payment Processor.)

Optional: If you are NOT reselling the Private Label Rights, remove the link "Resell Rights" at the top right hand of the sales letter. Otherwise, you may leave it as it is.

Another Option: You can edit the sales letter and price of the product anyhow you like. The only thing I ask of you is that you don't devalue the quality of the product by selling it for mere pennies. It's not good for the product and it's NOT good for you, too, because the profit purpose has been defeated!

Tip: You can easily change the color schemes of the sales letter. For example, if you want to use the color schemes found in the /Sales Letter/images2 folder, simply rename the folder to "images". Before that, rename your original "images" folder to another name e.g. "images1". The changes will take effect immediately when you open your index2.htm file. Alternatively, you can edit the web graphic source files (PSD) found in the /Sales Letter/Source Images (Do Not Upload) folder.

Editing the Thank You Page

The Thank You page is none other than the thankyou.htm file found in the /Sales Letter folder.

Firstly, I encourage you rename the file to another name e.g. thankyou777.htm. This is because the file name is easily guessed and rather generic as other resellers also have this same package.

1. Open the Thank You page in your HTML Editor or Notepad.
2. Replace the pink tag [Insert Your Email Address] with your email address.
3. Replace [Insert Your Name Here] tag with your name.

This is the page your customers will come to after they make payment via your payment processor.

Tip: You can include ads in this page for back-end selling, or another opt-in form to collect quality customer leads for future follow-ups.

Editing the Resell Rights Sales Letter

(This is optional. However, if you are reselling the Private Label Rights to this product then please follow the instructions carefully.)

1. Open your HTML Editor or Notepad.
2. Open the resellrights.htm file found in your /Sales Letter folder.
3. There is a pink tag called [Insert Your Name Here]. There are at least 2-3 tags like this in the same file and this is where you replace the pink text with your name. Be sure to color the text black or any other colors you choose.
4. There are at least 2-4 "http://orderlink/" tags throughout the sales letter. Replace this tag with your order link so you can start accepting payments online from customers who want to purchase the product from you. (See also 3.3 Setting Up Your Payment Processor.)

Optional: You can edit the sales letter and price of the product anyhow you like. The only thing I ask of you is that you don't devalue the quality of the product by selling it for mere pennies. It's not good for the product and it's NOT good for you, too, because the profit purpose has been defeated! After all, you're reselling Private Label Rights where you can be exacting top dollars!

Editing the Resell Rights Thank You Page

Warning! Not to be confused – the Thank You page for reselling Private Label Rights is the resellrights-thankyou.htm file found in the /Sales Letter folder.

Firstly, I encourage you rename the file to another name e.g. thankyou-rr-777.htm. This is because the file name is easily guessed and rather generic as other resellers also have this same package.

4. Open the Thank You page in your HTML Editor or Notepad.
5. Replace the pink tag [Insert Your Email Address] with your email address.
6. Replace [Insert Your Name Here] tag with your name.

This is the page your customers will come to after they make payment via your payment processor. This is where they will download the Private Label version of this product.

Tip: You can include ads in this page for back-end selling, or another opt-in form to collect quality customer leads for future follow-ups.
